THE QUESTION OF THE COLORED PRINTER DOUGLASS .- Well, the National Typographical Union has taken action upon the case of the colored printer Douglass employed at the Government Printing Office. They have declared that "the wanton attempt of the Congressisnal Printer to force upon Columbia Typographical Usion No. 101, L H, Douglass an avowed "rat" meets our unqualified condemnation, and that we deem it the duty of Columbia Typographical Union to resist the attempted outrage, and shall firmly sustain them in so doing." The National Union, it will be seen, does not put it upon the question of color, but on the ground that Douglass worked in a "rat office" in Denver. As we have already pointed out, the real issue is the question of color, though the Printer's Convention did not seem inclined to take the colored buil by the horns, and rejected a resolution offered as a substitute declaring that "the National Typographical Union objects to the admission of any negro into a Union under its jurisdiction." That the "rat" issue had no varidity is shown by the letter (printed in the STAR June 1st,) of the Secretary of the Denver Union, John E. Watkins, dated May 24, 1869. In this letter Mr. Watkins says:

"Mr. Douglass is not considered a "rat" here from the fact that he was not a Union member when he worked on the Gazette, and this Union never took any action in regard to the matter. He was a man of good repute while residing among us, and was held in high esteem by his colored brethren. After leaving the Gazette he taught a colored school, and was considered an upright and efficient teacher. I know no reason except race and color-that should deprive him of becoming a member of a Typographical Union, and the fact of his being a negro will, no doubt, be considered by your Union a sufficient reason to retuse him membership.

However, the National Typographical Union. a powerful, inteligent and influential body, have taken positive ground against the admission of Douglass. They go further; they severely censure the Superintendent of Government Printing for his course, and declare that they will sustain the Washington Union in resisting it. Here, then, seems to be the commencement of a contest that will agitate the whole country, and involve very important consequences. Will Superintendent Clapp "back down!" Some think he will. Not much, we believe. And were be so disposed, Congress would not let him. It is safe to say, from the temper of letters written here by members of Congress, that Mr. Clapp would not keep his place an hour after the next meeting of the Secate should he discharge the colored printer Doug. lass. There are those who argue that members of Congress, with a care for their political future will avoid a contest with the powerful Trades Union of the country, but it must be remembered that a large proportion of the Congressmen come from agricultural constituencies. having no interest in common with the Unions. and, indeed, hostile to them on the whole. In many city constituencies too, it is probable that the feeling in behalf of the right of the colored man to seek employment in the work-shop would over-ride any other. On the whole, the supposition that Congress will fail to enforce equal rights for the colored man in the Government Printing Office, as well as in the other Departments of Government, is a branch that won't bear. Various modes of whipping the venerable Nicholas around the stump have been proposed, as, for instance, to allow Douglass to work without admission to the Union. or to divorce the Government Printing Office from the Union, but there are so many obstacles in the way of all the modes of dealing with the question thus far suggested, that they seem

The attack upon Miss Weser in the Smithsonian grounds on Saturday, and the robbery committed there on Sunday night shows that they are relapsing into the condition that gave them such a bad name during the war, when it was unsafe to pass through them by daylight. Is it not about time that a little of the attention that is given to the pet public grounds in other parts of city, in the way of policing and attention, should be given to the much neglected Smithsonian grounds? The disgracefully untiay condition of the grass there, lodged and run to weeds, left unmown until this late period, while the pet lawns are shaved semimonthly, is an illustration of the bad manage. ment of these grounds. Cannot Gen. Michler vring his strong arm to bear to rectify these

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY CEL-EBRATION.

Visit of the Washington Commanderies to Philadelphia.

Procession and Programme for To-day. In yesterday's STAR we gave an account of the departure from the depot here of the officers and members of Washington Commandery No. 1, Sir Knight J. B. Will, Commander, and Columbia Commandery No. 2, Sir Knight Joseph Daniels, Commander, Knights Templar, of this city, for Philadelphia, to participate with St. John's Commandery No. 4, of that city, in the celebration of their semi-centennial anniversary of the formation of the Commandry, which occurs to-day. At Annapolis Junction the Washingtonians were joined by the Naval Academy Band from Annapolis, under the leadership of Professor Schaff. The party, with ladies, numbering altogether over 250, reached Baltimore about o'clock yesterday afternoon in a through train, which connected with the special train of eight cars provided for the Marylaud Commanderies, which embraced the following: -Mary-land Commandery No. 1, E.T. Shultz, Emi-nent Commander; Baltimore Commandery No. 2, Emanuel Corbett, Eminent Commander; Monumental Commandery No. 3, Francis Lin-coln. Eminent Commander; Crusade Commandery No.5 (recently formed), W. P. Hanna, Eminent Commander; Commandery No. 4, of Frederick, G. E. Hanson, Eminent Commander. Upon reaching Philadelphia the Washington and Maryland Knights were met at the depot by a delegation of St. John's Commandery, who escorted them to their hotels.

There are in the United States about ten thousand persons belonging to the peculiar branch of Masonry known as Knights Templar, and of these full three thousand, it is estimated, will participate in the demonstration to be held in Philadelphia to-day in commemoration of the Semi-centennial Anniversary of the Institution of St. John's Commandery, No 4, which sprang into existence on the 15th of June, 1819. The first thing on the programme will be the grand parade this morning, in which commanderies from the following States will participate : From Pennsylvania, 19 Commanderies; New Jersey. 7; New York, 8; Delaware, 1; Maryland, 4; Connecticut, 2; District of Columbia, 2; Georgia, 2; Illinois, 2; Louisana, 2; Michigan, 1; Massachusetts, 2; Rhode Island, 2; Tennessee, 2; Virginia, 3. Making a total of 59 Commanderies, representing the Order in fifteen States. In addition to these, the Grand Encampment of the United States, and the Grand Commandery, Grand Chapter, and the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania will take part in the parade. At half-past seven o'clock this morning the line will form in two divisions, the right rest-ing on Chestnut street, facing west. At eight o'clock an inspection will take place. After-wards, the line will break in columns of six and march in that order, by way of Fifth, Arch and Broad streets to Columbia avenue, where they will pass in review. After being reviewed, the line of march will be again taken up to Horticultural Hall, where the lines will be formed in two divisions, open order, facing inward. Grand officers of Grand Eucamp. ments of United States, Grand officers of Grand Commanderies of different States, and elective officers of subordinate Commanderies, will pass through the lines, followed by visiting Knights. The exercises in the hall will b opened with prayer by Sir Rev. Robert H. Patterson, D. D., Past Eminent Commander, of Philadelphia Commandery, No. 2. This will be followed by an anthem, composed for the occasion by Sir Wm. J. Kelly. Sir Richard Vaux, Right Worshipful Grand Commander of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, will then extend a welcome to the visiting Knights, which will be responded to by Sir W. S. Gardner, Eminent Grand Muster of the Grand Encampment of the United States. After music by the band, the orator of the day, Sir Wm. H. Allen. Past Eminent Grand Commander of Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania, will deliver an address, upon the conclusion of which the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. John Chambers, of Kadosh Commandery No. 29, Philadelphia. At eight o'elock in the evening all the Commanderies will assemble at the American Academy of Music, the Knights of St. John's Commanderies oc cupying positions on the stage. The Grand and Past Grand officers of the United States, Grand Commandery, Commanders and Past Com-manders of subordinate Commanderies will meet in the lobby of parquette at 8% o'clock.

The Grand Templar March will be rendered by the band at % o'clock, and the procession will move by the side entries to the rear of the stage. The curtain will then be raised, and the line will proceed to the front of the stage, where Sir Richard Vaux will again welcome the most Eminent Grand Master of the Grand Encampment of the United States and his grand efficers, together with the grand officers of the several State Grand Commanderies and the visiting Knights. The exercises and entertainments of the evening, including a grand ball and banquet, will then be commenced under the management of the reception com-mittee, of which Sir J. L. Hutchinson is chairman. The fete will without doubt be one of the most brilliant and pleasurable nature.

A noticeable order has been promulgated by the committee of arrangements, prohibiting
